The State of the Consumer Sector Review - 1H 2025

Consumer Sector Overview

- Consumers have become more strategic in their shopping, weighing purchases against current needs and future demands, with only 18% making impulse buys
- The focus on sustainable consumption continues to grow, with green attributes now seen as essential complements rather than sole motivators, as consumers seek products that are both health- and eco-conscious
- As consumers are overwhelmed by choices and information, there is a growing demand for clearer product labeling and more intuitive shopping experiences, such as streamlined online navigation and tailored recommendations, with 35% highlighting easier site navigation as a key factor in improving their online shopping experience

Consumer Sector: Key Market Trends

Technology and AI Integration

Artificial intelligence (AI) is becoming integral to CPG operations, enhancing supply chain efficiency, personalizing consumer experiences, and driving innovation

E-commerce Expansion

The shift towards online shopping continues to accelerate, with consumers increasingly purchasing CPG products through digital platforms. Companies are investing in robust e-commerce strategies and digital marketing

Customization and Personalization

Consumers continue seeking products tailored to their individual needs and preferences. CPG companies are offering customizable options and personalized experiences to cater to this demand, enhancing customer satisfaction and loyalty

Sustainability and Ethical Practices

There is a growing consumer demand for sustainable and ethically produced goods. Brands are responding by adopting eco-friendly practices, sourcing responsibly, and transparently communicating their sustainability efforts to attract environmentally conscious consumers

Consumer M&A Overview

- Investment in equipment plunged in Q4'24 after two straight strong quarters, but consumer spending grew at a 4.2% pace, the fastest since January-March 2023 and up from 3.7% in July-September last year
- The trend of increased mid-market deals persists, alongside a steady yet low volume of larger transactions
- Companies in the industry continue to use divestitures to rebalance and optimize their portfolios, while also shedding underperforming past acquisitions

Recent notable transactions in the market include:

- Butterfly's Acquisition of The Duckhorn Portfolio, for ~$1.95 Bn
- SVP's Acquisition of Vista Outdoor's Revelyst
  Segment for $1.125 Bn
- Lakeland Industries Completes $25 Million Acquisition of Veridian

Key Trends Shaping Consumer Packaged Goods Market M&A

Consumer Packaged Goods (CPG) is leading the M&A dealmaking with strong transactions activity, particularly in food and beverage

Companies are divesting underperforming assets to streamline operations and focus on core strengths

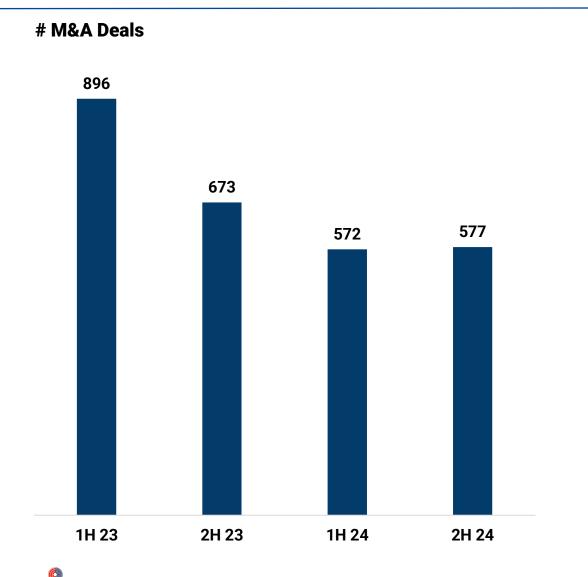

Higher interest rates and valuation gaps have delayed exits in private equity portfolios. Aged investments, especially in food and beverage and household products, are expected to see liquidity events soon

Rising demand for health-conscious products is driving CPG companies to acquire brands that offer healthier options, expanding their portfolios
